Hillel Sponsors Israeli Diplomat

Mrs. Cilli Abraham to Speak On a Mid-East Democracy

While the Mid-East crisis quiets, University students will have a chance to hear one side of the dispute when Mrs. Cilli Abraham, director of the Department of Public Affairs in the Israeli Embassy at New York, visits the University's campus and speaks at a convocation entitled "Israel, a Mid East Democracy."

The convocation sponsored by the Hillel organization will be held at the Drama Center on March 27 at 2 p. m. Mrs. Abraham, who had a great deal to do with the Israeli movement in 1948, has served many years with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Israel.

Hal Wallach, president of the Hillel organization, stated that his group was highly pleased in getting Mrs. Abraham to speak at the University and expressed the hope that all University students as well as Hillel members would attend this convocation.

Wallach also said that students who do not go home during the spring vacation and need provisions for the Passover can contact him at his home by calling TR 4-2330 and sufficient provisions will be arranged.

Comunale Cops Lifting Crowns In Two Meets

Joe Comunale, the University champion weightlifter returned from Boston last weekend with two or more trophies to add to his collection.

Not satisfied with winning the annual Eastern Collegiate Weightlifting championship at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on March 16, Comunale entered and won the Boston Open AAU meet on the following day.

Competing against colleges and universities from Maine to Florida, Comunale broke the Eastern Collegiate record with a 260 lb. press.

In the Boston Open, Comunale broke another record also with a 260 press.

Recently winning the "Mr. Bridgeport" title and placing second in the annual Wilmington, Del. Open on Feb. 23, Comunale entered the Eastern Collegiate meet as one of the top contenders in collegiate weightlifting competition.

Winning last year's Eastern Collegiate Weightlifting championship by establishing three new collegiate records, Comunale regained his crown again this year against very stiff competition.

Holding 20 medals and 27 trophies and establishing 17 lifting records including the National YMCA press record, Comunale is aiming his sights on a berth in the coming 1960 Olympics.

A Sophomore in physical education, the champion weightlifter's home town is Iselin, N. J.

Campus Cop Can Now Tag City Parkers

The Bridgeport Police Department announced this week that it has granted Elmer Mayer, University special patrolman, the right to tag illegally parked cars in and around the campus area.

This would mean that Mayer can now tag violators of city parking regulations as well as those set up by the University. The municipal tickets will be paid through the regular police channels.

In a phone interview with the Scribe, Lt. George Kaleda, of the Bridgeport Police Traffic Division, stated that the local patrolmen have always tried to "give University students a break" and that they will continue to do so.

He stated that the only time his department cracked down on a student was in answer to a

Thunder Picks 8 New Knights For '56 Season

The Knights of Thunder accepted seven students and one honorary member into the organization in a ceremony at the Drama Center Saturday.

Those given the status of knighthood were: Madelyn Pugh Morrison and Lucy Wisinski, Stratford; Steve Grasso, Trumbull; Jack Zalkind, Bridgeport; Richard Bock, Stamford; Donald McIntyre, Fairfield; and Jane Shapiro, Rochester, N. Y. Gus Meyers, Jr., was given honorary membership in the organization.

A cocktail party at the home of Prof. Albert Dickason and a dinner-party at the Fairway Restaurant followed the knighting ceremony. Bill Bartlett, president of the Knights of Thunder, was in charge of the ceremony. He was assisted by June Bartram, Al Zavadsky and Geraldine Bennett.

The Knights of Thunder now have a total membership of 124. It was organized in 1949 by the Board of Trustees to "Secure for the University students all the advantages of an active honorary fraternity along with trying to further the cultural progress of the University as well as the City of Bridgeport in the field of dramatics."

According to a Knights of Thunder spokesman, membership serves as a reward to students for participation in all campus productions. The organization, along with the Office of Campus Productions, co-produces Campus Thunder each year.

Honeybuckets To Battle AGP

The intra-mural basketball season comes to a close tonight when AGP meets the Honeybuckets to determine the champions of the league. The clash will be held in the Gym starting at 8:15.

The Honeybuckets and AGP won the right to play in the finals by defeating the Stags and Stamford Hall, respectively, Monday night.

In the first game Bob Moran of the Honeybuckets' five was the high scorer with 14 points as his club defeated the Stags by the score of 39-32.

D'Andrea Calls Senior Meeting

Bob D'Andrea, president of the senior class, called a meeting of his class for next Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Music Lecture Hall.

At that time plans for Senior Weekend will be discussed and ideas for the prom and graduation exercises will be presented. D'Andrea urged all class members to attend if they wish to take part in the formulation of the June events.

"Anyone who does not attend," he stated, "proves by his absence that he is not interested in the plans and therefore will have no gripe if things do not turn out to his liking."

In as much as the senior meeting will conflict with the regular Wednesday session of Student Council, D'Andrea announced that the March 27 Council session will end before 2 p. m. in order that senior class members may attend the meeting in the Music Lecture Hall.

D'Andrea also announced that refreshments would be served.

Grace Period Granted To Parking Scofflaws

A Scribe editorial on campus parking pushed administrative wheels into action this week as William Knowland, chairman of the Parking Committee met with Pres. James H. Halsey to map out the collection of backlogged fines.

PGM Selects New Leaders

Carol Friedberg, a junior in the College of Arts and Science, was elected president of Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary social science fraternity, during a group meeting last week.

The society's new vice president is Gerald Davis, a senior majoring in economics. He is also a member of Kappa Beta Rho fraternity.

At the same meeting Dr. Joseph S. Roucek, chairman of the political science and sociology departments and Prof. William T. Desiero, were chosen faculty president and treasurer respectively.

Pi Gamma Mu candidates must have a "B" average in 20 or more hours of social science in order to qualify for membership in the group.

Gals Shape Up

Coeds Shine Over Males In Fitness

Don't look now fellas but the girls are in better shape and we don't mean symmetrically.

It seems that a recent test of physical fitness among students at the University showed that the coeds were out in front of the males in the muscle department.

Dr. David A. Field, director of the Arnold College Division, made the announcement after 226 women and 88 men were given the Kraus-Weber test for minimal-muscular fitness. The women came through with only 14.1 failures, while the men trailed with 18 per cent failure.

Fields added that the University as a whole was much higher than the national norm. The test was given to many thousands of young people throughout the country during the past five years when it was found that over 60 per cent of them failed.

Spring Signals Two Big Concerts

Edward F. Byerly, chairman of the music department, announced that the University will offer two spring concerts on successive Sundays, March 31 and April 7.

The 50-piece University-Community Symphony Orchestra will give its first public concert performance on March 31, at the Gym at 3 p. m. A program of classical and semi-classical music will be offered under the direction of Mr. Byerly. The University String Orchestra, a smaller unit of the University Community Symphony orchestra will also take part in the March 31 program.

Previous performances by the symphonic orchestra have been limited to appearances at University functions, the most recent at the seventh annual Frank Jacoby lecture at which Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff spoke.

The newly organized University Community Concert Band will make its debut on April 7, also at the Gym at 3 p. m. Howard Marks will conduct the 46-piece group.

The results of the meeting in Halsey's office on Tuesday were made known to the Scribe through Student Council President Bob D'Andrea.

To alleviate the situation, yet give the student a break, the Committee has decided to inform each violator by first class mail that he or she owes a parking fine. President Halsey has authorized the hiring of extra clerical help to speed the process.

The scofflaws will be informed after April 1 and will have until April 26 to settle their account. If they have not paid the fine by April 30, according to the committee a list of offenders will be published in the Scribe and Faculty Bulletin.

If the violators still have not paid their fines between the April 30 date and May 7 they will be suspended.

According to D'Andrea, no student should fear suspension for having more than one ticket between the April 1-26 grace period. However, after that date he or she has no claim on the protection of the grace period.

Anyone, who feels that he has an appeal on a parking fine, may contact the Parking Committee and state his case. The members of the Committee are: William Knowland, James Southouse and Charles Rasmussen. George Stanley was nominated at the meeting to fill the post vacated by Floyd Brewer when the former Director of Student Activities ac-

Bard Courses Set for This Summer

The University in cooperation with the American Shakespeare Festival Theatre and Academy of Stratford will offer special courses in "Summer Shakespeare" to run in conjunction with the Shakespeare theatre's summer program, officials of both organizations reported.

Scheduled for stage presentation at the theatre this summer under the direction of John Houseman are: "Othello," opening June 22; "Midsummer Night's Dream," opening June 23; and "Much Ado About Nothing," opening July 29. The summer program will end on August 4.

Establishment of the "Summer Shakespeare" program came about as the result of many inquiries received by the University for such a course from groups of students and teachers throughout the nation.

The proposed program has been made flexible to meet the needs of these individual groups.

Lectures on Shakespeare and on the plays offered at the theatre would be given on the University campus with field trips to the American Shakespeare Festival Theatre and Academy with attendance at performances included.

Flexibility of the program has been arranged to accommodate groups of individuals for periods of a few days or as long as desired, it was reported. Participants in the "Summer Shakespeare" program would have an opportunity to arrange for accommodations on the University campus.

Dr. Helen M. Scurr, chairman of the English department, and a member of the staff of the American Shakespeare Festival Academy will deliver the "Summer Shakespeare" lectures. She will also give some lectures at the Festival Academy.

We Knew It Would Happen

It used to be that when spring rolled around a young man turned his thoughts to the ladies. Now it seems that the ladies have developed muscles.

With the recent announcement by the Arnold College Division that University coeds are more physically fit than their male classmates, we can only say . . . we knew it would happen.

Of course the tests showed that University males were above par when compared with the rest of the county's college men, but that does not help the situation at UB.

For years the gals have been taking over the territory that once had a "men only" sign on it. From operating rooms down to city rooms the feminine invasion has persisted. In Russia they even took over the coal mine industry.

The last bastion behind which the quivering male could hide was his strength. Biologists, obviously males, have written articles showing how women are not up to the physical stamina of men. Now the illusion is blasted into outer darkness.

While college males sat back flexing their declining muscles, the ladies were out eating their wheaties. Now they are leading the physical culture field around the campus and the poor lads can do nothing about it.

Well, there is no use crying in our fattening beers men, all we can say is "wait till next year." But as for now, it is spring, and ladies muscle or no muscles, we still love you."

Mayer is No Ogre . . .

This week the Bridgeport Police announced that Elmer Mayer has been given the right to tag offenders on city streets around the campus. What this means is that police now have a helping hand in the area. But before you start turning Mayer into an ogre let us look at the situation.

Mayer has no intention of tracking down every one who has parked 24.2 feet from a corner or some other such foolishness. What he is doing is to keep up community relations between the people who live around the immediate campus and the University.

This Friday evening the sisters of Chi Zeta Kappa will hold their first annual dance, their "Toast to the Campus," at Lenny's Wagon Wheel. Bring your dates along with $2 and help the girls welcome in their first dance with the aid of Tom Fenick and his band. Irene (still giggling) Goldberg, Tami Garay, Sneila Geisdi, Rose Genziano, Lucille De Stefano, Gail Marks, Dorothy Mikita, and Patti Lamber were initiated into the sorority at a dinner at the Barnum Winter Quarters. Lucille was the recipient of the sororities best pledge award. Remember to support their dance!

This past weekend the brothers of POC and their dates visited Max's over 50 strong in number. From the reactions circulating on campus it appears that this trip to Max's surpassed all previous visits. Congrats should be extended to POC's alumni who turned out en masse to support this particular function.

Phi Delta Rho just witnessed a full weekend of activities ending with the initiation of new sisters at the Fairway Restaurant two Sundays ago which completed a hectic two weeks of pledging.

A party held in honor of the five new TS brothers was held at the Housatonic Lodge Friday night. To the amazement of absolutely no one, "Dr. Sidney Sanders" was given the "POW" award. It was his favorite brand, Elsie's Best from Borden's! President McNaughton was given assistance off of the dance floor, back to his rocking chair after a strenuous exhibition of the Black-Bottom.

Chi Sigma Delta held their hell night last Friday and brought their pledge period to a final halt for this semester with an initiation dinner on Sunday night. The girls contributed to the omnipresent needs of charities by raising funds for the Cancer Fund. New sisters are, Carol Breen, (continued on page 4)

In compliance with requests from Dot, Ellen, Ann, Pat, Mona and Zelda—Zelda?? we humbly submit our version of the typical college man.

When he looks in the mirror, he sees a crew-cut head above the physique of Charles Atlas. His dark ivy suit and Florsheim shoes are the latest from the pages of Esquire.

He's another Charles Van Doren, majoring in everything from business to aeronautical engineering.

He's a man of high ideals and his ethics are above reproach.

He's as suave and debonnaire as any continental lover could be.

A complaint he never utters when the profs tell him he has four term papers due.

He silently suffers through the agony of talking to parents while his date makes up her face.

A roving eye at a dance is one fault he doesn't have.

His greatest treasure is the fraternity pin he proudly wears, and before parting with this, he'd die.

Le machine he drives is as reserved in color and speed as his attire.

Our Joe College dances with the agility of Arthur Murray and knows the latest calypso routine.

He's well read, likes classical music, spends the majority of his time studying, and is never overdrawn at the bank.

In the eyes of those around him he's a pair of side-burns wearing a black leather jacket, khakies, and dirty sneakers, walking along in a syncopated mambo beat.

He's Simple Simon majoring in girls, laziness, parking and?

His grades are accomplished with the aid of a gyp-sheet and the eyes of a hawk.

Joe's as suave and debonnaire as a bowl of bagels.

Term papers are cussedly done the night before due date. While waltzing all over her dainty feet, the "Fair Lady" of the night never hears the end of his having to wait five minutes.

Our hero squealed up to her house in a big 1934 lavender and pink roadster, and honked his horn for two minutes before knocking down the door as he ran to the refrigerator for a beer, sandwich, pie and cookies.

His eyes and attention are centered on every girl there but his date. That fraternity pin has been on so many sweaters it feels like a moth in a sports shop.

Comic books are strewn around his room which looks like the after math of a tornado—Musically he has a repertoire of polkas, Lawrence Welk, and Guy Lombardo. He never activates his studies but rather studies social activities.

He's been down to the bank explaining being over-drawn so many times, they think he's a member of the board.

Aside from all these weird conceptions his cohorts have of him, Joe College still rates high in the eyes and hearts of those who know him.

Captain Harry Peters concluded his cage career by playing in the Hall of Fame basketball game at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., last Saturday afternoon.

The high scoring little guard was selected to the New England All-Star squad which opposed the Greater Boston All-Star team in a benefit game for the basketball Hall Fame at Springfield College.

Peters was the second UB player to participate in this event, following in the footsteps of 1955-56 Jimmy Davins.

Tennis Team To Schedule 8 Opponents

With Roland Caserta taking over the coaching reins from Bob Stevenson, the varsity netmen will open their eight contest season against New Haven State Teachers' College at home and conclude their campaign against the same Teachers' College squad on the road.

Caserta, in a dual role as the number one player and coach, heads a list of returnees that include such front line personnel as George Garipey and Terry Johansen.

With Stevenson and Nick D'Aluisio missing from the lineup, the 1957 Knights will still tackle such noteworthy opponents as Brooklyn Poly, New Britain Teachers, Hillyer College and Iona College as well as New Haven. They will play home-and-home games with New Britain, Hillyer and New Haven.

Peters Top Varsity Point Getter

Captain Harry Peters finished his college career as the top scorer on the 1956-57 UB basketball team, according to official statistics. The star guard, in his fourth season of varsity competition, scored 474 points in 24 games for a 19.8 average.

Hal Hellerman, 6-6 junior, was second to Peters with 329 points and a 13.7 average for 24 games. Larry Babich, 6-5 senior, completing his four-year cage career, was third in scoring with 257 points for a 10.7 average.

Babich, however, was the club leader in field goal percentage, garnering an impressive 46.6 percentage for the season, just missing the record of 48.4 set by Jack Liggins in 1954-55.

Peters, who missed the total point record of 475 but set a field goal mark of 189, was second in field goal percentage with 38.1, while Hellerman shot 36.1 per cent.

Peters grabbed the free throw crown by hitting for 96 of 131 for a percentage of 73.3, edging out Hellerman who hit 85 of 124 for a 68.5 percentage.

Hellerman captured the rebounding title with an average of 13.3 per game, on 320 rebounds while runner-up Babich had a 12.3 average and 295 rebounds. George Dieter was third with 9.4 rebounds per game.

Sophomores Charley Jessup, George Dieter and Dick Whitcomb also shined during the campaign with Jessup fourth in scoring with a 7.6 mark followed by Dieter with 7.2 and Whitcomb with a total of 109 points.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY

Want facts about performance?

Then look at the official figures from NASCAR's* internationally famous Daytona Beach competition for stock cars. Here's what you'll find: Chevrolet, in two weeks of blistering competition, proved itself as America's Number One performance car. Nothing in the low-price field could touch it.

No other car, regardless of price, scored such a sweep. And Chevy walked away with the famous Manufacturers' Trophy, hands down!

The 1957 Chevrolet is, by all odds, the most astonishing performer ever produced in the low-price field. Best of all, this superiority isn't limited to just a few extra-cost high-performance models. Every type of Chevy—from the six-cylinder models right up to the 283-horsepower "Super Turbo-Fire" V8's, from the single-carburetor V8's with Powerglide to the stick-shift "270's"—is a championship car.
